

Season 2 Episode 4

The Fairest Feistar

At a science museum in the Ultraverse, a blonde-haired round headed young boy looks at his museum pamphlet and looks at the exhibits showcasing all kinds of science exhibits from all over the Ultraverse. Spikey haired bullies stand behind the boy and one of them grabs on the boy by his underwear and places him on the tooth of a prehistoric creature from some obscure universe in the Ultraverse. The boy is stuck there hanging from his underwear. He flails his arms and legs around and yells for help and his class that he is on a field trip with leaves him there. The boy attempts to jump away and he manages to make his body thrust off the tooth with the back of his underwear being ripped off. The boy lands on the floor and he runs to find his class. He reunites with his class and the old lady teacher gives him a stern look and she said, "Melvin... Don't have me catch you wandering off again." Melvin said, "It wasn't me. Those bad kids..." The teacher flicks Melvin's nose and she said, "Quit making up excuses. You come up with those way too much."

The class goes through a dark exhibit where plants and lush foliage are displayed. The tour guide goes to an exhibit and it shows vibrant purple and blue leaved plants. The tour guide said, "These types of plants form a hard surface within a large proximity of the plant's roots. This proximity serves as a preservative that preserves lifeforms as well as physical material items. We are about to travel to a remote island that is rich with these plants."

The tour guide takes the school trip further into the dark hall where they end up in a hover glider ship that takes off and flies over a large ocean. The top of the ship is completely exposed and is only protected by a light metal guard rail that runs across the perimeter the ship. The bully kids give the nerd kid a fierce look that suggests they are going to do something despicable to Melvin. Melvin looks scared and he shakes in fear. The teacher slaps Melvin's back and she said, "Quit this." The ship hovers over an island that is filled with tropical plants including purple and blue leaved plants as well as a ton of junk and debris from a crashed battleship. The tour guide said, "This island is famous for having these plants. It preserves the lives of the plant life on this island so it can also be used to help preserve things in the Ultraverse. Something really famous happened on this island three years ago. The Grand Master Feistar of the Ultraverse Monks had a plan that involved him taking over the Ultraverse with a giant battle Yin-

Yang that can fly around the sky and through Ultraverse space. It was destroyed by the new monk recruit Keith, and it crashed on this island.” Remains of Feistar’s Yin-Yang battle station are clearly visible. The tour guide said, “The best part is that all the plant life survived this giant impact and none of the soil on this island was impacted. This is one of the greatest miracles of Ultraverse science.” The ship hovers far above the ground of the island. The bully kids hide behind Melvin and they push him off the edge of the ship and Melvin falls to the island.

Melvin falls and his chest smashes into the ground and he breaks through a layer of ground which braces his fall and he falls a much shorter distance and he ends up in the remains of part of the Yin-Yang battle station. Melvin looks around and he said, “Where am I?” Melvin walks around the debris and broken bits and he sees the legs of someone stuck under the debris. Melvin said, “I will help get you out of there.” Melvin goes to the legs and he pulls them out of there and he sees it is the dead body of Grand Master Feistar. Melvin freaks and he said, “Wait. I think I’ve seen you before. This must have been your battle station. It is bad that it turned out like this.”

Melvin explores the remains some more and he finds an information computer terminal that still works. Melvin turns it on and he goes through the contents that it has to offer. Melvin looks up various science related things and he finds information on those purple and blue plants he saw at the museum. Melvin reads the screen and he said, “It looks like Grand Master Feistar was going to use these plants to somehow make him immortal. It even has instructions on how to build his plan with the plants. Everything needed is listed right here. I want to see if this works.”

Melvin goes outside and he collects some purple and blue plants and he goes through the remains of the ship and he finds component parts that match the ones in the instructions. Melvin uses what tools and other odd devices he can find and he applies all this to Feistar’s body. Melvin builds robotic parts into Feistar’s body and he connects a part of the robotic parts to an electrical conduit that still seems to be functioning. Melvin activates the conduit and electricity flows into Feistar’s dead body. Feistar’s eyes open and he slowly gets up. Melvin said, “Grand Master Feistar. You are alive and well again.” Feistar said, “I am. Of course, I am.” Melvin said, “I resurrected you using your own research and equipment. I think you are stronger than you were before. Maybe you can get us out of here.” Melvin turns his back to Feistar and he reveals he has a remote control that he can use to control and manipulate Feistar with. Melvin controls Feistar and he makes Feistar break through the debris and he breaks through walls and he forms a passageway to outside. Melvin said, “It works. Now we just need a way to get off this island. He is much stronger and faster now and he does what he does according to me. I have an idea.” Melvin jumps on Feistar’s back and he makes Feistar swim back to the shore of the Ultraverse mainland.

Technicians work at a testing center for a giant saucer shaped spaceship with a giant flat-topped cone sticking out of the top of it. It is filled with lights and it is armed with giant visible deadly plasma cannons. Melvin and Feistar barge into the facility and are in the main entrance to the facility. Guard robots are activated and attempt to attack Melvin and Feistar. Melvin controls Feistar to use a large sword and his fists to smash down the guard robots. Melvin makes Feistar walk to the main reception center and Feistar grabs onto the shirt collar of the secretary. Feistar holds his sword up to her throat. Melvin said, "Tell me where the main battle craft is being tested." The secretary sweats in fear and she points to a hallway corridor that leads to the testing site. Melvin said, "Thanks" and Feistar lets her go.

Melvin and Feistar break into the testing center. Technicians try to put up a fight against them but Feistar fights them off with his sword and fists. Melvin points out the main entrance of the space craft. Melvin and Feistar enter the space craft and they take off breaking off the restraints as they ascend into the sky. Melvin looks over the controls of the space craft. Melvin said, "This is totally awesome. This is a perfect tool to use to get revenge on our enemies." Melvin looks at the controls and he finds a button that makes a screen appear on the outside of the ship. Melvin appears on the screen and civilians on the Ultraverse main street look at Melvin. Melvin said, "Tremble with terror. You are all finished for using me as your punching bag." Melvin's teacher happens to be on the street and she raises a fist to the space ship. The teacher said, "Melvin. You hear me! You get down here right now. I will show you fairness if you come down." Melvin looks at Feistar and Feistar said, "You know you can't trust those damn bureaucrats that run your school." Melvin said, "You're right." Melvin presses a button and it activates a ray gun and it fires on his teacher. The teacher turns to stone. Melvin uses a robot arm on the ship to pound the stone teacher and she is broken into small particles. Melvin said, "Who else wants a go at me?" The people of the street run around with their arms flailing. Melvin plays with more of the controls and he makes all kinds of bizarre weapons come out and attack the city. Keith and Ivan are walking down the street and they see Melvin on the screen. Keith spots Feistar on the screen. Keith said, "No. It can't be. It could not be possible." Ivan said, "What is not possible?" Keith said, "That's Grand Master Feistar with him. Grand Master Feistar died three years ago. I saw it happen."

Ivan, Safron, Dirk, and Keith are in Grand Master Augi's office. Augi said, "I don't know how that boy did it but Feistar seems to be alive again and is helping him get revenge on people. We have a technician with us from the testing site that the ship was stolen from with us." Augi points to a technician standing next to him. The technician shows blueprints of the ship to the monks. The technician said, "This is an experimental multipurpose ship we designed to withstand the harsher parts of the Ultraverse. We have been testing it for months now. Thankfully for us, there is a small flaw in the ship.

The ship has no heat resistor that prevents the ship from getting too hot from strenuous usage of its internal systems. There is a way to go into the internal systems of this ship and turn them all on to override the main engine of the ship which would cause it to be destroyed. There are also several spots where Monk transports and starfighters can dock with the ship. Our designers knew something like this could happen so we prepared for that kind of occasion.”

Ivan, Safron, Dirk, and Keith gather in a small monk transport and they fly off to the ship hovering over a destroyed part of the Ultraverse city. Melvin is still on the screen and he is looking down on the people of the main Ultraverse city. Melvin said, “Let this be an example to those that betray me. Here is my long list of demands. I want all of these followed to the letter.” Melvin takes out a sheet of paper and he reads from it. Melvin said, “Bullying of any sort is now a crime punishable by death. Anyone that does a single act of animosity against another individual will be executed by me. Everything on TV, the internet, newspapers, and anything else that can be imagined has to be about me and my interests.” The monk transport docks on one of the secret docking sections of the ship and the monks pile out into a hall on the ship.

Keith said, “This ship is supposed to run on a full crew of people but it is not likely to have any people here other than Melvin and Feistar since this ship was being tested when it was stolen.” The monks walk down the hall and security turrets are activated. The monks pull out their swords and they block the weapons’ fire with them. Keith runs closer to the center of fire for all the turrets and he throws his sword and he cuts all the turrets off the walls and ceiling and Keith’s cyan bladed sword lands back in his hands.” Safron said, “Impressive. You should show me how to do that sometime.” Keith said, “Your father built this sword and only people that can wield it can manipulate it to fly.” The monks trek deeper into the halls and Feistar walks out a door and stands strong and burly over all the other monks. Feistar said, “Ah, Keith. We meet again.” Feistar draws his sword and all the monks draw their swords. Keith gets a series of traumatizing flashbacks of Feistar using Keith for suicide missions and having Keith be jailed in his flying Yin-Yang. Keith jumps at Feistar and they get into a fierce duel. Keith is constantly slashing his sword with powerful rage and Feistar just stands there and blocks everything. Ivan enters the duel and he slashes Feistar’s arm and he jumps and slashes Feistar’s head. Only a few scratches are formed on Feistar from Ivan. Feistar grabs onto Ivan’s and Keith’s heads and he smashes them into the ground. Feistar holds Ivan and Keith’s heads in the palms of his fists. He takes a step towards Safron and Dirk. Safron and Dirk jump on Safron’s skateboard and they skate away.

Feistar enters the main control room where Melvin is flying the ship. Feistar throws Ivan and Keith into the main control room. Melvin said, “Ivan and Keith. I was wondering when I would meet you.” Keith said, “You don’t know what you are dealing with. Feistar doesn't care about anyone but himself. He will turn on you and..." Melvin said, "Enough of this crap. You did something in animosity against me. That means you are all to be sentenced to instant death by me." Melvin snaps his fingers and Feistar comes out and he is about to pound Ivan and Keith again. Ivan and Keith jump away from Feistar. Melvin looks at a screen and he sees Safron and Dirk wandering around the halls. Melvin said, "Look at this. It looks like your bully friend and your girlfriend are still lost in the mazes of this ship. I will give them some guides." Melvin activates some security systems in the ship. Humanoid security robots are dispensed from the walls and they begin to chase after Safron and Dirk. Safron and Dirk jump on Safron's skateboard and they dash away. More security robots and systems are activated. Safron sees robots down one hall so she makes a sharp turn down another hall. Safron sees robots and she turns one way and then another and then, they are cornered. Safron's skateboard spins out of control and she crashes it into a door and Safron and Dirk find themselves in a large round room where a control terminal rests in the middle from a high level over a seemingly bottomless pit. Dirk said, "That looks like the controls." Safron said, "It is all the way over there and there doesn't seem to be a bridge or anything like that."

Dirk said, "I know how to get there." Dirk wraps his arm around Safron and he takes out one of his strong string dispensers and he swings across the large seemingly bottomless pit to the control terminal in the center. More security systems are activated and they launch out large turrets that open fire on Dirk and Safron. Dirk swings around holding Safron to dodge the turrets. The turrets shoot at Dirk's string and it breaks and Dirk and Safron are about to fall down the bottomless pit but Dirk fires a string and sticks to the terminal. Dirk zips to the terminal. Dirk and Safron are at the terminal and more turrets are spawned and they open fire on Dirk and Safron. Dirk swings with Safron to dodge the turrets and more security turrets keep getting spawned and opening fire. More and more come out to a point where there is nowhere else to go since the control terminal room is filled with turrets. The turrets begin to malfunction and red emergency lights flash. A computer voice said, "Systems overload. Core failure in five minutes." All the security turrets spark and explode. Safron said, "Looks like we didn't need to do anything with the terminal. It looks like the security systems were enough to overload the ship." Safron and Dirk swing out of the place. Safron said, "We need to find Ivan. We can't leave him here. He's too cute to get killed in a place like this." Dirk said, "We'll get Ivan out of here."

Ivan and Keith are using their swords to duel Feistar in front of Melvin. Feistar looks at Ivan and he said, "You are that yin-yang boy I've been reading about. I have a deep interest in you." Ivan said, "So does everyone else." Ivan and Feistar slash their swords together. Keith sees that Melvin is controlling Feistar with a controller. Keith runs for Melvin and Feistar grabs Keith. Keith said, "Ivan. Melvin is controlling Feistar. If we stop him..." Feistar smashes Keith into the floor. Ivan dashes past Feistar and he jumps with his sword armed and is about to destroy Melvin's controller. Ivan's foot is suddenly grabbed by Feistar. Feistar holds Ivan and Keith in the air in their defeat. Feistar said, "It is about time I got my revenge on the monks. Now Augi needs to reinstate me as the Grand Master of the Monks since I am not dead."

Safron and Dirk barge into the control room. Safron and Dirk ride on Safron's skateboard and they speed past Feistar. Dirk gets up to Melvin and grabs Melvin by his underwear. Dirk said, "I have had enough of you damn nerds ruling everything. It is about time the anti-nerds win." Everyone is giving weird looks to Dirk. Dirk sees the controller and he grabs it out of Melvin's hand and he smashes it in his fist. Dirk said, "This is all over. You are going to Ultraverse juvie for this." Melvin looks scared and he points to behind Dirk. Dirk said, "Do you think I am going to fall for that trick?" Feistar is behind Dirk and Feistar smashes Dirk in the head. Feistar gets all four monks in a tight grip in one of his fists. Feistar said, "This is all mine now." Melvin said, "I am your master. I brought you back from the dead and you must do everything I say." Feistar said, "Or what? You don't have your remote anymore. You have no control over me. I don't take orders from anyone but myself." A voice said, "Twenty seconds to core overload." Melvin said, "We are all going to be dead." Feistar said, "I am much stronger now. I have been dead before so what does it matter to me?" Melvin begins panicking and running around. The ship is about to overload but suddenly, everything in the ship goes dead. Melvin said, "What happened?"

A forcefield is formed over the ship. The forcefield is originating from a cloaked ship and it zips away with the battle spaceship in its forcefield. The ship uncloaks and it is a small battle craft that is red and sports the Asterix Empire seal on it. Melvin looks at the ship and he gulps and said, "The Asterix Empire? I hear those people are brutal. We must get out of this." Keith said, "It looks like the Asterix Empire has taken interest in this little stunt of yours." Melvin starts crying with water pouring waterfalls out of his eyes. Ivan said, "The Asterix Empire would do anything to have us." A yin-yang forms over Ivan and Ivan appears in his yin-yang battle mech suit. Safron smiles in joy. Ivan breaks out of Feistar's grip. Ivan picks up Feistar and he smashes him into the ground. Feistar releases all of Ivan's friends. Feistar draws his sword and he clashes it with Ivan's sword for a hand. Ivan charges a sparking blast from his arm cannon and it hits Feistar frying his circuits. Feistar's body flinches rapidly and it sparks and Feistar falls to the floor fried. Ivan said, "Come with me." Keith, Dirk, and Safron jump on Ivan's back. Melvin jumps on too and Ivan kicks off Melvin. Ivan said, "Not you." Ivan dashes to a window and he breaks out of it. Ivan goes falling from the sky and he uses boosters in his feet to dash through the air and safely land in the main Ultraverse city.

Ivan's friends look at Ivan in praise. Safron said, "My hero." Safron kisses Ivan. Keith said, "Ivan may have saved us and defeated Feistar but there is still an evil force present that may have just gotten stronger thanks to Melvin's stunt."

The battleship is brought to a spaceship lab in the Dark Universe. Melvin is brought to an office where General Philip Williams (Captain Fusion in the Dark Universe) sits behind his highly decorated desk. General Philip said, "So, I heard you managed to steal a highly advanced battle spaceship and used it to nearly dominate the Ultraverse. I also heard you brought back Grand Master Feistar from the dead. Is all this true?" Melvin said, "It is sir." General Philip said, "Good. We need people like you. You saw how unfair your Ultraverse has treated you. A lot of universes are no different from the Ultraverse. We at the Asterix Empire admire people with your skills. You would be a powerful ally to us and you can get more revenge on people that wronged you." Melvin said, "I am in." The Asterix Empire begins construction on more battle spaceships like the one Melvin stole and Feistar's body is placed in a tube filled with a blue liquid.
